Councilman John Valdivia Earns Unprecedented Early Campaign Support

San Bernardino, CA -- City Councilman John Valdivia today announced that his campaign committee has earned record-breaking financial support from local residents, businesses and community leaders.

During the first half of 2017, Councilman Valdivia's campaign committee raised over $125,000 from donors throughout San Bernardino and the Inland Empire. John received contributions from nearly 100 individuals for his campaign committee.

"I am truly honored to have the support from many local residents, businesses and community leaders," declared Valdivia. "It confirms that the people of San Bernardino are ready for a new direction and I am focused on taking action to improve our city and quality of life."

"San Bernardino also needs to attract new investors and employers to build a stronger economic foundation for our City," continued Valdivia. "I am very pleased at the strong show of support from regional businesses and stakeholders for my campaign committee."

"John is a results-oriented community leader who offers a bold vision of future success for San Bernardino," stated local investor and supporter, Frank Mistretta Jr. "I am very pleased to support his leadership at City Hall."

Born and raised in San Bernardino, John Valdivia was first elected to the City Council in 2011 by defeating an incumbent with nearly 70% of the vote. He was re-elected in 2015 without opposition.
